

Best Value Assurance Report

Moray Council

Progress report

ACCOUNTS COMMISSION

Prepared by Audit Scotland
March 2022

The Accounts Commission

The Accounts Commission is the public spending watchdog for local government. We hold councils in Scotland to account and help them improve. We operate impartially and independently of councils and of the Scottish Government, and we meet and report in public.

We expect councils to achieve the highest standards of governance and financial stewardship, and value for money in how they use their resources and provide their services.

Our work includes:

- securing and acting upon the external audit of Scotland's councils and various joint boards and committees
- assessing the performance of councils in relation to Best Value and community planning
- carrying out national performance audits to help councils improve their services
- requiring councils to publish information to help the public assess their performance.

You can find out more about the work of the Accounts Commission on our website: www.audit-scotland.gov.uk/about-us/accounts-commission

Audit Scotland is a statutory body set up in April 2000 under the Public Finance and Accountability (Scotland) Act 2000. We help the Auditor General for Scotland and the Accounts Commission check that organisations spending public money use it properly, efficiently and effectively.

Findings

- 1 The Commission accepts the Interim Controller of Audit's report on the progress made by Moray Council against our Best Value Assurance Report in August 2020. We endorse his recommendations.
- 2 In our previous report, we set out our serious concerns about a lack of sustained improvement in Moray Council over many years. We are encouraged by the steps taken by the council since to put in place elements needed to deliver improvements, against a backdrop of the challenges of the Covid-19 pandemic, to which the council has responded well. We note in particular the attention being given by the council to its approach to improving educational attainment and housing.
- 3 We are not however assured that this momentum will be maintained. We remain disappointed that the strong cohesive leadership required from elected members is not yet being demonstrated. We once again underline that all elected members have responsibility for working constructively to fulfil the council's statutory duty of Best Value and thus demonstrating that it is able to improve itself and the services and outcomes for the people of Moray.
- 4 Immediate progress now needs to be evidenced in more urgent implementation of the improvement and modernisation programme. There will be an opportunity following the forthcoming local government election in May 2022 for elected members to consider, informed by external support as appropriate, how they can best achieve and maintain the changes needed. A core part of this approach needs to be effective decision-making and scrutiny of such decision-making, done in conjunction with officers. Given the difficult decisions needed in the face of forthcoming financial challenges, it will be unacceptable if members cannot agree how this can be done.
- 5 Given the utmost importance to the people of Moray that their council is able to demonstrate such collective leadership, the Commission expects that progress is demonstrated within a year after the elections.
- 6 We therefore require the Controller of Audit to monitor the situation closely and report back to us as a priority early in our new approach to auditing and reporting Best Value in place from mid 2023.

Audit approach

1. This report updates the Accounts Commission on the progress made by Moray Council on the findings of the Best Value Assurance Report \(BVAR\) published in August 2020 . The Commission's findings in the BVAR are set out in Exhibit 1 of this report. In those findings the Commission noted the substantial nature of the recommendations in the BVAR, and said it had serious concerns about a lack of sustained improvement in Moray Council over many years since the first Best Value report in 2006. The Commission said that it was critical that the council increase its pace of implementing change and requested a further report from the Controller of Audit on the progress made by the council in response to the Commission's findings no later than February 2022.

2. This follow-up report is based on audit work carried out remotely in September and October 2021. It builds on the annual audit work reported by the auditor in the Moray Council 2020/21 Annual Audit Report . Appendix 1 outlines the Controller of Audit recommendations from the 2020 BVAR and summarises the progress made to date. Appendix 2 outlines the key events and the decisions that have taken place since the Best Value Assurance Report in August 2020.

3. My report covers:

- how effectively elected members and officers are leading action to address sustained improvement at the council
- the council's progress in securing its financial position and developing medium- to long-term financial planning
- the council's progress in reviewing and improving decision-making and governance structures
- steps taken by the council to address deteriorating performance and improving performance reporting.
- whether the council has demonstrated that it has the capacity to deliver change.

Exhibit 1

Commission findings in the Best Value Assurance Report, August 2020

- 1 The Commission accepts the Controller of Audit's report on Best Value in Moray Council and we endorse his recommendations. We note the substantial nature of these recommendations.
- 2 The work for this audit was done prior to the Covid-19 emergency and thus does not consider the additional and sizeable pressure that this has placed on the council. The Commission is, however, of the firm view that the principles of sound financial management, good governance, public accountability and transparency remain vital. Accordingly, we intend that our reporting of the Best Value audit will help the council deal with the significant challenges that it faces.
- 3 We have serious concerns about a lack of sustained improvement in Moray Council over many years since our first Best Value report in 2006. The Controller's report gives us only limited assurance and confidence about the council's prospects to improve. While we noted some progress in our previous report in 2015, momentum stalled, and it is only recently that this has been restored. While we are pleased to note such early signs, it is critical that the council increase its pace of implementing change.
- 4 To do this, clear, committed and decisive leadership will be needed. The duty of Best Value lies with the council as a whole, and so it is important that all elected members fulfil their responsibilities – in administration or opposition – to improve the council for the good of its communities. Such political leadership exercised alongside effective implementation and support by officers, will help the council make difficult strategic decisions about how and where it needs to improve.
- 5 At the core of such improvement is a need for a medium- to long-term financial strategy, which clearly maps how the council will deal with substantial future funding gaps in a sustainable way while transforming its services.
- 6 We underline the recommendations of the Controller of Audit on the need to continue to review and improve decision-making and governance structures and similarly the need for better and timely performance information reported to elected members and to the public.
- 7 Deteriorating performance and evidence of declining satisfaction of many council services is concerning. Underperformance in educational attainment is a significant issue. Recent attainment initiatives and a review of the learning estate strategy are vital components that the council needs to expedite urgently in conjunction with school leaders and communities. The council's approach to working with its communities and partners is a good foundation as it faces future challenges in delivering its services and improving people's lives.
- 8 It is crucial that the council ensures that it has the capacity to deliver change. We note messages from staff surveys around workload and culture which highlight risks to staff morale and commitment.
- 9 As a result of our findings, we require a further report by the Controller of Audit no later than February 2022 on the progress made by the council. In line with our new approach to auditing Best Value, the annual audit process will also monitor and report progress.

Key messages

The council has made progress in some important areas over a difficult period, but challenges remain to successfully deliver strategic change. Elected members need to work better together to deliver the council's priorities

4. The council approved a BVAR strategic action plan in October 2020 to address the Accounts Commission's findings and the recommendations of the BVAR published in August 2020. The council routinely monitors and reports progress against its plan. By September 2021, the council had reported that the short-term actions were largely complete and is moving to address medium- and long-term actions. The council has made progress in some important areas, while dealing with the ongoing demands of the Covid-19 pandemic but ongoing challenges remain. Work completed by the council since the last BVAR includes:

- Approval of a clearer vision of its Improvement and Modernisation Programme (IMP). This was revised and prioritised and includes target dates set out in its BVAR strategic action plan. Progress with the IMP includes:
 - approval of its learning estate strategy
 - service reviews of additional support needs, children's services and leisure services.
- An updated medium- and longer-term financial strategy in March 2021, with the council's financial position improving over the past two years.
- The council continues to set aside funding for transformation and approved the appointment of a project team to help support delivery, but it has yet to agree and implement a sustainable financial model for service delivery.
- Finalising a governance review, but as part of this process the council agreed to defer the review the remit of the Audit and Scrutiny Committee until after the local elections in May 2022.
- Improved performance management arrangements, with a clearer focus on outcomes to better support priorities.
- A revised raising attainment strategy, which sets out an approach to better understand and improve educational attainment. The council has maintained a focus on attainment throughout the pandemic.
- Actions to address and better understand satisfaction with housing.
- A comprehensive elected member development strategy.

- 5. The council was quick to respond to the Covid-19 pandemic, but the pandemic has affected the overall pace of change. Some transformation work was temporarily halted during the peak periods of the council's Covid-19 response.
- 6. The council has taken steps to improve capacity to drive strategic change and address gaps in resource but has faced recruitment challenges in key posts for example the head of transformation role.
- 7. The council will need to continue to build on the momentum it has gained to achieve its longer-term strategic aims. The minority SNP administration group has been able to gain support for some key decisions, but this can be time-consuming, challenging and relies on the support of other elected members. But there are still some difficult strategic decisions that lie ahead, and progressing these will require all elected members working constructively together.
- 8. To achieve further progress in the key areas of Best Value and lay strong foundations for the new intake of elected members in May 2022, the council needs to finalise the remit of the Audit and Scrutiny Committee and address the lack of a shared and clear view on the role and nature of scrutiny. This is needed to address tensions between officers and members and to improve working relationships among elected members. The council should continue to seek external support around this. It will also need to continue to review and address capacity issues, ensuring that its priorities are achievable and that it protects the wellbeing of its staff.

Audit findings

The council has made some progress in delivering its improvement and modernisation programme, but this has been affected by the Covid-19 pandemic

9. In May 2021 the council approved a revised and re-prioritised improvement and modernisation programme (IMP). This more clearly aligns the IMP to council priorities, and sets short and medium- to long-term targets. The council also approved a preliminary project team to support delivery of the IMP and allocated £6.4 million for transformation projects.

10. The council has progressed the IMP over a challenging period while responding and adapting to the Covid-19 pandemic, but challenges remain to successfully deliver transformational change. It has met all its short-term targets. This includes progressing a learning estate strategy, and progressing service reviews of additional support needs, children's services and leisure services. We provided an update on the council's progress against its IMP in our last report . Exhibit 2 provides a summary of progress for each stream of the IMP.

Capacity has had an impact on some planned changes

11. A significant number of transformation projects are still at an early stage and progress has been slower than expected, but there has been some progress. The council has identified additional posts to drive strategic change but still faces challenges. It has had difficulties filling some key posts, (eg head of transformation) and some services still face issues regarding capacity. Moray is a small council, and capacity has had an impact on its ability to resource some planned changes. It needs to continue to develop its approach to agreeing priorities and programme management to ensure the transformation programme is achievable.

12. A mental health survey of officers carried out in summer 2021 highlights workload issues. The council plans to present the results to corporate committee and full council and is developing a mental health action plan and workload management toolkit. The council will use these results to monitor officer wellbeing and reallocate workloads as required.

The council's financial position has improved over the last two years

13. The council's financial position has improved over the last two years. The council achieved general fund surpluses with its general fund balance increasing by £7 million in 2019/20 and by a further £21 million in 2020/21. This includes £16 million of unspent Covid-19 funding. The level of reserves and the recent surpluses means that Moray Council is no longer in danger of running out of reserves in the next couple of years.

14. An updated medium- to long-term financial strategy was approved as part of the council's budget setting process in March 2021, which recognised increased difficulties around long-term financial planning due to uncertainties created by the pandemic. This strategy was further updated in November 2021 to reflect the impact of the pandemic and other additional budget pressures on the council's short to medium-term financial plans. The council plans to use significant Covid-19 reserves to balance its budget in 2022/23 and 2023/24 and use this time to develop new transformation projects and consider other approaches to deliver the savings required to ensure services are financially sustainable in the medium to longer-term. There is a risk that the council is unable to agree and implement a sustainable financial model for service delivery.

The council is still to finalise its review of governance arrangements and address the lack of a shared view on the role and nature of scrutiny

15. We highlighted in the last report that there was a high degree of challenge and scrutiny at service committees and that scrutiny sometimes focused too much on operational detail at the expense of strategic issues.

16. The council is finalising its review of governance arrangements and committee structures to reduce bureaucracy, streamline decision-making, and reduce material going to committees.

- March 2020 - in response to the pandemic, the council agreed a temporary emergency cabinet of seven elected members. This reflected the political balance and emergency powers were delegated to the chief executive for lower risk decisions.
- June 2020 - in further response to the pandemic, the council agreed to put a temporary committee structure in place from September 2020, aligning with the management structure. This provided an opportunity to trial a more streamlined approach.
- October 2020 - elected members voted to reject a cabinet model as part of a motion to change the administration by the Leader of the Conservative group.
- September 2021 - the council agreed its longer-term, committee structure as part of the governance review, having deferred making a decision earlier in the year due to the Covid-19 pandemic. The role of the Audit and Scrutiny Committee was left outstanding.
- November 2021 - the council agreed to not review the remit of the Audit and Scrutiny Committee until after the local election in May 2022.

17. The revised model is similar to the original committee structure , although committee remits were changed slightly to align with deputy chief executive roles (Deputy Chief Executive Economy, Environment and Finance and Deputy Chief Executive Education, Communities and Organisational Development).

18. To try and reduce the length of some committee meetings, the council has introduced more information-only reports and is looking to hold further discussions with elected members on relevant matters before committee meetings.

19. The remit of the Audit and Scrutiny Committee is still to be reviewed and clarified. Service committees are responsible for scrutinising performance and policy issues within their service area. To help improve the quality of scrutiny the council has developed a scrutiny handbook. This summarises the nature and purpose of scrutiny, the different ways members can scrutinise council activity and good questioning techniques. Elected members deferred consideration of the remit of the Audit and Scrutiny Committee and approval of the scrutiny handbook until after the local elections in May 2022. The council continues to lack a shared and clear view on the role and nature of scrutiny, which can create tensions among officers and members. External support will be helpful, and the council is arranging further training for members in scrutiny, supported by the Improvement Service.

The council is implementing a comprehensive elected member development strategy

20. The council approved its elected member development strategy in November 2020. Elected members complete a personal development plan based on a completed competency assessment framework with the offer of support from a member of the organisational development (OD) team. A programme of training is provided based on the strategy, Best Value recommendations, corporate priorities and individual needs. In 2020/21, 19 out of 26 elected members had a development discussion with a member of the OD team. This is now being repeated during 2021/22 to review any additional needs. Overall, the council offered 51 training sessions with 186 attendees, a slight increase on the previous year.

21. The council has started planning for elected member induction in 2022 and plans to use the same structure as before - a seven-day orientation period followed by a 100-day induction.

Elected members need to work better together to deliver council priorities

22. In the BVAR published in August 2020, we said that political instability  and lack of focus had slowed the pace of change, but the current minority administration was more cohesive with good relationships between the CMT and administration. The report also noted that the political make-up of the council was finely balanced at a time when the council needed to work together to make some difficult strategic decisions. This will be even more challenging following the resignation of a member of the administration in November 2021, who will not be replaced until after the local elections in May 2022. The Conservative group and Moray alliance group presented a motion to change the administration in December 2021, but this was unsuccessful.

23. The council works with three tiers of governance. The CMT meet with the administration group; group leaders meet at least once a month; and business goes through formal committees. In December 2020, the Chief Executive met with group leaders to discuss political management and ways of working, but this can still be difficult especially where there are areas of political difference. Cross-party working arrangements can be affected by longstanding political differences between some groups and some poor relationships. The administration group has been able to gain support for key decisions, but this can be time-consuming, challenging and relies on the support of other elected members. For example, it took around six months to revise the IMP.

24. Council officers and members worked well in response to the emergency response to the pandemic, but some working relationships between members have deteriorated again.

25. The council's annual monitoring officer report in September 2021 points to time spent dealing with instances of disrespectful behaviours and issues arising from division between councillors (see paragraph 3.12 of the monitoring officer report). Elected member complaints to the monitoring officer relate to a lack of respect for each other; relationships between members and officers; and language used on social media. The monitoring report was originally tabled as information only, but due to the issues highlighted in the report the monitoring officer escalated the report to be added to the agenda for consideration by the council. It is important that all officers and members work together to create a positive culture in the best interests of the people of Moray. Continued external support will be helpful in improving working relationships and embedding effective scrutiny.

The council has strengthened its performance management framework and is working to address areas of poorer performance

26. The council has improved its performance management framework (PMF), creating a clearer link between service and corporate priorities, along with the actions and outcomes it wants to achieve. This has provided the foundation for improved service performance reports which have a clearer focus on performance against strategic objectives. More use is made of exception reporting, summarising key areas of good and poorer performance and identifying what needs to improve. The reports also reference relevant complaints, case studies and engagement activities. The pandemic impacted on the frequency of service performance reporting during 2020/21, but these are now reported to committee every six months. The 2020/21 public performance report due in July 2021 has been delayed and is expected to be published in February 2022.

27. In September 2021, the council approved its annual corporate plan progress report, which focuses on a smaller set of indicators. The council's central support team continues to work with services to review and refine performance measures and improve performance reporting, providing useful internal challenge. The council should continue to use this process to drive further improvements. It should also continue to support officers and members so that they have a good understanding of the PMF, scrutinise how well the council is achieving its strategic objectives and use it to inform improvements.

The council has taken important measures to improve educational attainment, but educational attainment data has been disrupted by the pandemic

28. The last Best Value report highlighted that secondary school tariff scores were consistently below the virtual comparator for S4 to S6 with deteriorating performance between 2017 and 2019. There has been significant disruption to learning across all local authorities in 2020–21 due to the pandemic. The council has continued to provide the committee responsible for education with detailed information on its own educational attainment data but it is not possible to make national comparisons due to the absence of external assessment information. Improvements in educational attainment will need to be monitored over the longer term with the need to consider any impacts from the pandemic.

29. The council has taken measures to improve educational attainment and learner wellbeing over the audit period, maintaining a focus on this alongside responding to Covid-19.

- In November 2020, the council approved a new raising attainment strategy, developed with schools and practitioners, which includes a section on Covid-19. The emphasis is on working with schools and includes focused quality improvement work, better understanding of reasons behind poorer attainment, promoting consistency in quality teaching standards and sharing good practice.
- The council estimates that nearly 40 per cent of pupils have additional supports needs. In August 2021, the council approved an outline business case and action plan to take forward a review of additional support needs and approved £1.9 million of resources to support this.
- A learning estate strategy was approved in October 2020. A project team has been established, including a community support officer, and will start looking at options for three priority associated school groups with stakeholders from November 2021. The council successfully bid for learning estate investment programme funding for Findrassie primary school.

Action has been taken to better understand tenant satisfaction

30. The council carried out a tenant satisfaction survey during autumn 2021 using a different methodology to get a more in-depth understanding of the issues driving satisfaction and what is important to tenants. The design of the survey was informed by engagement with other local authorities. The council received results in November 2021 and expects to present these to members in January 2022 and report to the committee responsible for housing in February 2022.

31. The council appointed a new head of housing in summer 2021. Actions are being taken to better understand tenant satisfaction including considering findings from the latest tenant survey, the stock condition survey and rent levels survey. The council intends to feed this into the 30-year Housing Revenue Account Business Plan and an investment plan will follow. The Scottish Housing Regulator has no major concerns about housing services in Moray.

Community planning partners are increasing their focus on outcomes, but further improvements are required

32. Community planning partners are in the process of improving their approach to performance management with a sharper focus on the outcomes they wish to achieve. Community planning lead groups attended workshops on this in December 2020 and January 2021. In April 2021, the Community Planning Partnership (CPP) board approved delivery frameworks (action plans) for each of the four Local Outcomes Improvement Plan priorities providing a better focus on outcomes and measures to monitor these. The CPP acknowledges this is an evolving area of work which they are continuing to develop. Progress has been slower than anticipated while partners responded to the pandemic.

33. Performance reporting lapsed between September 2020 and June 2021 but has resumed since then and the lead groups are now using a new template to report on progress against their delivery frameworks. The CPP intends to make further improvements, developing some of the performance measures and indicators to help assess performance and bringing greater consistency in reporting across the groups. The CPP needs to ensure it fully develops its performance management framework.
